MOBILE APP PROPOSAL

PROPOSED BY

Tom Maxwell

PROPOSAL SUMMARY

With the rapid increase in mobile device ownership across the world, mobile applications have become a powerful, profitable way to communicate. As innovation in this field happens at lightning speed, it is crucial that your organization stays up-to-date on new technologies in order to make the best use of this efficient problem-solving tool.

Whether you are looking for an enterprise or native mobile app solution, our specialized developers are ready to create your customized application. We can develop for Apple iOS, Google Android, and Microsoft Windows Phone platforms for use on all types of mobile devices, including smartphones and tablets.

In the following sections, we describe our offering, from the design phase to deployment and marketing of your mobile app. It is our goal to help your organization stay flexible and agile in response to the rapid changes in the mobile industry to ensure your continued success.

OUR CLIENTS

Tom Roberts
CEO, Teddy Bears Inc.

"I can't recommend Appitfy enough! We needed a teddy bear making app and our deadline was very short. They surpassed all expectations and built a beautiful, clean and functional app that really works well."

"I've been through a lot of development agencies who just don't do much work. That's not the case with Appitfy. We've had them develop over five apps and they've all been outstanding. I can't believe how lucky we were to stumble on them!"

Joanna Edgar
VP of Marketing, Red Box
